

Call for Applications for APPCN ABPP Scholarships

The Association of Postdoctoral Programs in Clinical Neuropsychology (APPCN) is soliciting applications for scholarships to support candidates working toward Board Certification in Clinical Neuropsychology through the American Board of Professional Psychology (ABPP). Three scholarships are available at each of three stages of the ABPP application process: the written test, practice sample submission, and oral examination (nine scholarships total). Scholarships will be awarded as reimbursement of the expenses for the stage applied for. Individuals may apply for a scholarship for more than one stage, but applications must be submitted within one year of completion of the stage for which the scholarship is requested. Applicants must have graduated from an APPCN Member Program, and must not have dedicated funds available from their employer to support ABPP application costs (i.e., individuals whose employer pays for completion of the ABPP process with funds specifically earmarked for this purpose are not eligible).

APPCN strongly encourages applications from individuals from historically underrepresented backgrounds, such as underrepresented racial and/or ethnic groups, individuals with disabilities, or individuals from socially, culturally, economically, or educationally disadvantaged backgrounds that have presented challenges to a career in clinical neuropsychology.

Applicants should submit 1) the completed Application Form, 2) Personal Statement, 3) current CV, 4) confirmation of graduation from an APPCN Member Program signed by the Program's current Training Director, 5) attestation of a lack of dedicated institutional funds to support ABPP application signed by an institutional representative, and 6) receipt for expenses for the ABPP application stage for which the scholarship is being requested. Materials must be sent to webmaster.appcn@gmail.com by January 14, 2022. The review committee will announce scholarship recipients during the annual International Neuropsychological Society Meeting in February 2022.

Please email APPCN Scholarship Committee Co-Chairs Dr. Jennifer Gess (GessJenniferL@uams.edu) or Dr. Michael Greher (michael.greher@cuanschutz.edu) with any questions.

Personal Statement

In 500 words or less, please briefly describe your professional background, any financial hardships or other challenges that have presented barriers to you completing the ABPP process, the ways in which the APPCN ABPP Scholarship will help you achieve your professional goals, your level of involvement in professional organizations or other service activities related to clinical neuropsychology, and any personal factors which you feel are relevant to your application. If you have previously been granted an APPCN ABPP scholarship, please comment on how you benefited from the award, and on why an additional award is warranted.
